After the Hours, the Minutes is the fourth album by my group The New York Second, this time in trio formation: with Max Sergeant on drums and Lorenzo Buffa on double bass.

The album contains 11 original compositions by me and aims to explore how we experience the passage of time through the interplay of the three musicians.

The new material was rehearsed in the summer of 2022 in the South of France and recorded in December of the same year at Exalto Studios in the Netherlands.

jazz-fun.de says:

Despite the multitude of such instrumentations, the piano trio is still an interesting and often surprising form of jazz creation. This album also proves that. Interesting compositions and improvisations make listening to this music a great pleasure.
